International Narcotics Control and Law Enforcement (INCLE) funding is critical for advancing the U.S. national objective of blunting the impact of international crime and illegal drugs on Americans and American society. The United States faces serious continuing threats to its security from international terrorist networks and their allies in the illegal drug trade and international criminal enterprises. Terrorism, international drug trafficking and transnational organized crime simultaneously target Americans and American interests both at home and abroad. All three groups thrive in gaps between law enforcement jurisdictions and where law enforcement institutions are weak or corrupt. They threaten not only U.S. security but also that of our close friends, neighbors, and allies. International drugs and crime jeopardize the global trend toward peace and freedom, undermine the rule of law, and menace local and regional stability, whether in Colombia, the Balkans, or Afghanistan.

To help meet these challenges, INCLE funds support a robust and comprehensive range of bilateral, regional, and global initiatives to help foreign governments build strong law enforcement and related institutions that can stop such threats before they reach U.S. soil. Together with Andean Counterdrug Initiative (ACI) funds, INCLE funding will strengthen the ability of key drug source and transit states to destroy drug crops on the ground; to disrupt and dismantle drug production and trafficking operations and organizations, arrest their leaders, and seize their assets; and to tighten border security against drug and people traffickers, terrorists, and other criminal groups. Internationally, the Department of State (DOS) will work closely with other countries to set anti-drug and anticrime standards, agree on collective actions, close off safe havens for drug, crime, and terrorist groups, fight corruption, and provide training as well as technical assistance to foreign law enforcement partners. DOS will partner in these activities with other USG agencies and with both international organizations and non-governmental organizations (NGOs). In the wake of September 11, 2001, many anti-crime programs have been refocused to emphasize and sharpen their counter-terrorism impact.

Recent program successes include:

- Combating Money-laundering and Terrorist Financing. INCLE funds have helped produce needs assessments or provide technical assistance to 16 of the 19 priority terrorist financing countries. INCLE assistance programs have also helped “graduate” 14 of the 23 countries (four in 2003) on the FATF (Financial Action Task Force) list of non-cooperative countries and territories by improving their anti-money laundering performance.
- Promoting U.S. and International Security Afghanistan. As part of U.S. and international efforts to strengthen Afghan security and stability by rebuilding the national police, assistance built and rehabilitated Afghan police training facilities, trained more than 2000 policemen in 2003, and established the first-ever nation-wide communications system for police.
- Undertaking Critical work with Pakistan to Strengthen Institutions and Security. As part of the global war on terror, Pakistan assisted in making progress toward sealing a porous 1,500-mile border with Afghanistan against infiltration by drug traffickers, terrorists, and other illegal armed groups, including much needed helicopters. Moreover, Pakistan border guard units have been steadily expanding their surveillance of border areas and have increased both the number and effectiveness of their counter-drug and counter-insurgency operations.

- Protecting our Border and Working with Mexico to Partner Against International Threats. Continue the focus on breaking up major drug trafficking organizations and established new mechanisms to increase security along our common border. Programs continue to support Mexico's steps to modernize its justice sector and are significantly improving our ability to coordinate at the operational level.
- Combating Trafficking in Persons. To combat the growing problem of trafficking in persons, in FY 2002 and 2003 the Department provided assistance to approximately 70 countries that were either on the Department's Trafficking in Persons Report or identified at risk for trafficking in persons. This assistance will help governments identify and prosecute traffickers, prevent trafficking, and aid victims.
- Fighting Corruption that Undermines U.S. Economic Interests and Security. The Department provided financial and political support for two years of negotiations leading to the completion and signing by approximately 100 countries (including the United States) of a new UN Convention Against Corruption, the first global treaty against corruption. The Department also continues to provide technical and diplomatic support for ratification of the UN Convention Against Transnational Organized Crime (TOC) and the Supplementary Protocols on Trafficking in Persons and Migrant Smuggling, all of which entered into force in 2003. The TOC Convention and the Protocols now take on the force of international law.
- Confronting Cybercrime. To address the rise in high tech crimes, INCLE funds supported the first-ever Organization of American States Conference on Cyber Security. Held in Buenos Aires, the Conference brought together key counter-terrorist, law enforcement and e-commerce experts from government and industry to discuss ways to combat identity theft, cyber intrusions, online piracy and fraud and a host of other crimes that increasingly feature the use of computers and the Internet.
- Fighting the Multi-Billion Dollar Theft from U.S. Companies by International IPR Piracy. The Department is stepping up its efforts to fight international intellectual property piracy. Working closely with other agencies and with the U.S. private sector, it is increasing funding for foreign law enforcement training and technical assistance. Assistance programs range from helping foreign countries rewrite legislation to training their police and prosecutors to more effectively enforce intellectual property protection laws.

Liberia ($5.0 million) - Consistent with the President’s priorities, strengthening Liberia’s law enforcement and anti-terrorist capacity is a key US priority. We want to ensure civil order in the region and reduce the potential for criminals or terrorists to threaten Liberia’s fragile peace or take advantage of Liberia as a haven for money laundering, arms smuggling and trafficking in persons, diamonds and timber.

Liberia has only the barest law enforcement and judicial infrastructure and little capacity to control its borders or enforce customs and other laws. INCLE funds will continue to assist Liberia develop a credible and competent police force, functioning judicial institutions, and implement anti-corruption measures.

INCLE funds will provide non-lethal material and technical assistance to reestablish a national police force; provide technical and material assistance to the Ministry of Justice to improve basic court functioning, transparency, and prosecutorial service. INCLE funds will also be used to contribute up to 35 U.S. police officers to the civilian police component of the United Nations Mission in Liberia (UNMIL) to assist training, vetting, monitoring, and advising the new Liberian Police Force.

Nigeria ($2.25 million) - Sophisticated and entrenched Nigerian criminal organizations are transnational in scope and have a direct impact on the United States. In Nigeria, funding will be directed at counternarcotics and financial crime units that are working closely with U.S. law enforcement organizations against transnational crime.

INCLE programs in Nigeria in FY 2005 are designed to achieve key U.S. foreign policy objectives of improving the performance of the criminal justice sector, strengthening democratic institutions, and protecting the United States against international crime. FY 2005 funds will continue interdiction training and technical assistance for the National Drug Law Enforcement Agency.

Funding will refine the police reform program, focusing on creating a “model region” emphasizing police-community relations and building basic skills capacity within the Nigerian Police Force (NPF) in the Kaduna region, and the continued presence of a technical advisor to work with the NPF and the Police Services Commission on revising the Police Act and Force Orders.

FY 2005 funds will provide advisory technical services to the fledgling Economic and Financial Crimes Commission (EFCC) to improve its capacity to deter, investigate and prosecute advance fee fraud and other financial crimes. Finally, FY 2005 funds will provide training and technical assistance for prosecutors and investigators within the Independent Corrupt Practices Commission (ICPC) to improve their capacity to investigate and prosecute corruption cases. Judges and police will be included in training sessions with prosecutors in order to improve coordination between the police and judiciary.

South Africa ($1.77 million) - South Africa is an anchor for stability and prosperity in the Southern African region and is a catalyst for encouraging other African countries to address crime, terrorism and immigration threats. Assisting South Africa on law enforcement and judicial issues addresses U.S. priority goals of supporting a stable and prosperous South Africa, fighting transnational security threats and creating a favorable climate for investment in the region. The FY 2005 program will build upon efforts undertaken in previous years in the law enforcement, judicial and corrections systems and initiate new assistance projects for the Department of Home Affairs and the judiciary.

FY 2005 funding will provide for the return of an advisor to work closely with the Johannesburg Metropolitan Police Department (JMPD) on improvements to the JMPD training curriculum and facility and to expand the use of the facility by other municipal level police; for continued support for the Resident Legal Advisor to mentor prosecutors and investigators on complex organized and financial crimes; and to continue and expand training for correctional services personnel to facilitate rehabilitation programs in prisons housing juvenile offenders preparing for release.

FY 2005 funds will also provide for two new, critically-needed programs for South Africa: a long-term, intermittent advisor for the Department of Home Affairs to assist South African officials with improving the Department's management, personnel, and enforcement functions; and an advisor to assess and develop an implementation strategy for caseload management, case processing, and internal controls for South Africa's belabored judicial sector.

Africa Regional ($1.48 million) - Criminal activities throughout Africa corrupt and weaken governments, sap precious resources, and undermine democratic reform, economic growth and foreign investment. INCLE crime and drug programs in West, Southern and Eastern Africa (Senegal, Mozambique, Tanzania and Uganda) support the development of professional and sustainable law enforcement and criminal justice institutions. By making Africa less attractive to criminal elements, INCLE programs foster the rule of law, forming the bedrock upon which the USG's broader goals of democracy and prosperity rest.

Funds will provide training, technical assistance and equipment to combat illegal migration and trafficking in people, narcotics and other contraband; and to develop democratic policing with an emphasis on human rights and ethics.

Funding will be directed at national efforts to tighten border control without hindering legitimate commerce. Emphasis will be on improving border control and interdiction efforts at sea, land and air ports of entry. Sustainable and institutional reform of law enforcement and criminal justice sectors will be supported through modernizing teaching curricula and teaching methodologies at law enforcement academies and through organizational change management.

Law enforcement development in Tanzania and Uganda will utilize the train-the-trainer approach, in-service professional development and community policing. Forensic laboratory programs in Tanzania, Senegal and Uganda will continue to receive training, technical assistance and resource upgrades. In Mozambique, training and equipment will support the border security program initiated in 2004.

Indonesia ($10.0 million) - Indonesia, the largest Muslim country in the world, is a center of transnational criminal activity and home base for international terrorist groups that threaten the region, U.S. allies, and the United States. Indonesia recognizes the need for and has requested assistance with police and criminal justice reform.

Training, technical assistance and equipment will support the development of the Indonesian National Police and its Marine Police component into modern and effective civilian forces respectful of the rule of law and human rights. Community policing precepts will be integrated into the police-training program. Funding will be provided to attack corruption and reform the criminal justice sector through prosecutorial and judicial skills development. Investigative, forensics and ethics training will be provided to professionalize the Indonesian National Police Drug Enforcement Unit and the National Narcotics Board.

Laos ($2.0 million) - Often unnoticed, Laos is the world's third largest producer of illicit opium and has the potential to produce significantly higher yields. INCLE funds will continue to support programs in alternative development and crop control; demand reduction; and counterdrug law enforcement development.

These projects will support additional road construction in Luang Prabang province to assist farmers in poppy growing regions with market access, government services and food production. Additionally, eradication will continue in all areas where poppy is grown, leading to an increased need for assistance to communities deprived of their only cash crop. Treatment centers and clinics will be constructed and demand reduction programs at national and local counseling centers supported.

Funding will provide training and executive observation trips for GOL counternarcotics personnel. Continued support such as infrastructure renovation, equipment and commodities (motorcycles, radios, and x-ray machines) will be limited to those Counternarcotics Units (CNU's), which have demonstrated good performance. Training and technical assistance to the Lao Customs Department, and the National Commission for Drug Control and Supervision will continue.

Philippines ($2.0 million) - A regionally-pivotal strategic ally, the Philippines, lies at the crossroads of the global wars on terror and drugs. Weaknesses in the Philippines law enforcement and judicial sectors hamper its ability to combat terrorism and other transnational crimes. These weaknesses are particularly acute in the Autonomous Region of Muslim Mindanao (ARMM) where much of the INCLE funding is targeted.

Funds will provide training, technical assistance and communications and information management equipment to assist the GRP develop an effective civilian police force in the ARMM. The Philippines Drug Enforcement Agency will be provided organizational support and training. Training for the Philippine National Police will be offered using a train-the-trainer philosophy. Police and prosecutors will be integrated in the courses. A Resident Legal Advisor will provide technical assistance on law and criminal justice reform; a forensic laboratory and library at the Bureau of Immigration will be established and a national automated fingerprint identification system and a criminal database implemented. NGOs that have on-going rule of law programs in the ARMM will be supported.

Thailand ($2.0 million) - Another key and populous ally, Thailand, is a leader in efforts against drugs and crime even while it remains a hub of transnational criminal activity. Despite demonstrated long-term success against narcotics production and trafficking, its criminal justice, regulatory and investigative capabilities are inadequate for the challenges of 21st century transnational and organized crime. Public corruption further handicaps its law enforcement and criminal justice institutions. Funds will be used to support drug control assistance, anti-corruption measures and crime control and criminal justice programs. Technical assistance, training and related assistance to Royal Thai Government (RTG) institutions will support legal and legislative reform, anti-money laundering measures and opium poppy control projects.

Special Investigative Units targeting narcotics crimes will be supported with monies transferred to State by DEA. Funds will continue support for demand reduction and alternative development efforts.

Morocco ($6.0 million) - U.S. support for Morocco's political and economic transition and its continued development as a moderate, Muslim state is consistent with our National Security Strategy to strike at the root of terrorism, and improve America's image in the Muslim world. Country-specific INCLE funding is requested for the first time in FY 2005. These essential funds will support border control, police-community relations and civil disorder management.

Funds will complement the PISCES computerized immigration system installed under the NADR-funded Terrorist Interdiction Program. A Resident Program Manager will facilitate the provision of training and technical assistance to address systemic problems such as corruption, poor law enforcement coordination, risk analyses and targeting systems.

Additionally, funding to improve community-police relations will include an assessment study, identification of a model project community and project activities coordinated by a resident Program Manager. Civil disorder management training and equipment such as shields, helmets, gas masks and batons will be provided to 150-line, mid and senior level officers.

INCLE funding will continue to support the war on terrorism in the frontline states of Afghanistan and Pakistan during FY 2005. Funding will be used for security, counternarcotics, law enforcement and judicial system development programs to promote regional stability and prevent terrorist acts against the U.S.

Afghanistan ($90.0 million) -

Police

FY 2005 INCLE funds for Afghanistan will support the efforts of the Transitional Islamic State of Afghanistan (TISA) to firmly establish a stable democracy able to provide for its own internal security. A critical building block for long-term security is the development of a competent national police, border police, and highway patrol.

The United States continues to support the efforts of lead country Germany in training the Afghanistan National Police and complements long-term institutional development goals by focusing on basic skills training for existing police and lower-ranked new police.

FY 2004 supplemental funds enabled DOS to significantly accelerate its police assistance to Afghanistan. The Department initiated a program to train nearly 20,000 new police officers by mid-2004 by establishing Regional Training Centers (RTC) in key provincial locations throughout Afghanistan.

Similarly, FY 2005 funds for the national police, border police and highway patrol officers will provide the resources to continue to training efforts for the remaining 30,000 police needed by December 2005 through support for:

- equipment and infrastructure needs,
- further development and maintenance of law enforcement communications and management systems,
- enhancements to police physical plant and infrastructure, personnel support (salaries),
- support for fixed point border crossing infrastructure,
- establishment of a system for monitoring immigration procedures and controls, and
- development of a capacity to conduct interdiction operations and investigations of crimes along the border.

Additionally, as the border needs grow, funds will help develop capacity for border police support to customs functions, as well as supporting refurbishment and construction of essential barracks and checkpoints.

Justice Sector

DOS's role in restoring the rule of law in Afghanistan is vital to ensuring stability, promoting human rights, and encouraging economic growth. FY 2005 INCLE funds will support modernization of the criminal justice system, infrastructure development, training justice personnel, and support programs that focus on public access to justice.

Cooperatively, FY 2005 funds will continue to support the Italian lead on activities to rebuild and reform Afghanistan's judicial system according to international due process, human rights standards, and Afghan cultural traditions. Funds will support refurbishment and construction of provincial and district courthouses. In addition, INCLE funds will supply courts with judicial supply packages that equip courthouses with basic office supplies and other administrative support items.

Counternarcotics

Afghanistan is the world's largest producer of illicit opium. The drug trade funds terrorist activities, undermines central government authority, and contributes to the instability that allows extremist elements inimical to the U.S. to operate. FY 2005 funding will support programs in three critical areas: counternarcotics, civilian law enforcement and administration of justice.

Working in close coordination with the United Kingdom and Afghan government, INCLE programs will seek to reduce opium poppy cultivation, strengthen counternarcotics law enforcement efforts, and increase Afghan government coordination and oversight of national drug policy and programs.

Funding will support:

- manual eradication programs,
- alternative livelihood programs,
- demand reduction programs, and
- a national anti-drug campaign.

Funding for the manual eradication program will continue to provide for the salaries, living expenses, equipment, transportation, and training of additional eradication teams and force protection personnel. It will also support monitoring and evaluation of the program, agricultural inputs, market support for farmers, and vocational training for vulnerable populations (women and itinerant farmers). To assess success, an evaluation of the program will also be conducted.

Programs to support the disruption of drug trafficking in border areas will be funded through the expansion of specialized training and outfitting of counterdrug units at the provincial level. Penal code reform will be funded through training and educational exchange programs.

Pakistan ($40.0 million) - Pakistan is an ally in the war on terror. Its 1500-mile border with Afghanistan runs through remote mountainous and desert terrain that is easily exploited by terrorists, drug traffickers and other criminals. Law enforcement institutions, neglected for decades, are incapable of investigating even minor crimes, much less the serious threats posed by terrorists and other extremists. At the same time, resurgent opium poppy cultivation in Pakistan—due in part to massive cultivation in neighboring Afghanistan—must be eradicated before its economic impact becomes too deeply rooted.

FY 2005 funding will build upon the successful implementation of prior year programs in three areas: border security, law enforcement and counternarcotics. Funds will be used to construct roads in the Federally Administered Tribal Areas to expand the presence of Pakistani security forces in previously inaccessible terrain. Additional checkpoints will be constructed at key intersections. Commodities such as vehicles, communications equipment and long-range optical devices will be provided to civilian border agencies. Beneficiaries will include the Ministry of Interior, Anti-Narcotics Force, Frontier Corps, Federal Investigative Agency, Intelligence Bureau, Coast Guard, Maritime Security Agency, Home Department, and provincial police forces.

Bridging the worlds of counter-terrorism and counter-narcotics, core funding will provide ongoing maintenance, support and operating costs for the USG-established Ministry of Interior Air Wing based in Quetta, Baluchistan province to conduct anti-terrorism and counterdrug missions. Funding will further extend air mobility to a new forward operating base near Peshawar to be outfitted with five helicopters being procured with FY 2004 funding.

Technical assistance, training and equipment for Pakistani law enforcement authorities will be provided to increase investigative and forensic skills; build accountability; and develop internal controls and leadership skills. Likewise, implementation of the Automated Fingerprint Identification System funded in previous years will be expanded. Development of the criminal information database will be continued to link federal and provincial law enforcement agencies. To reduce opium cultivation, FY 2005 funds will support the expansion of alternative crop programs into non-traditional growing areas; support crop control, and demand reduction efforts through a public awareness campaign.

Most drugs reaching the United States come from South America through three vectors: Central America, Mexico and the Caribbean. Programs supported in these areas are also centerpieces in the DOS effort to achieve recordable and sustainable successes in this ‘tipping point’ moment in the hemisphere, both counter-narcotics and counter-terrorism. INCLE funds aim to disrupt the flow to enable local countries to interdict and capture traffickers and the proceeds of their trade and fight related organized crime.

Bahamas ($1.0 million) - An estimated 12 percent of the cocaine destined for the United States passes through the Jamaica-Cuba-Bahamas vector. Funds will enhance interdiction efforts to include a larger Customs detector dog program and expand the Operation Bahamas Turks and Caicos (OPBAT) program through the purchase of go-fast interceptor craft for the Bahamian Police.

Guatemala ($2.82 million) - This country presents unique corruption and transshipment issues. An estimated 70 percent of drugs destined for the United States go through the Central American corridor, particularly Guatemala before entering Mexico. INCLE funds will provide training, equipment, and other support to the Anti-Narcotics Police (SAIA), the prosecutors of the Public Ministry, and the Guatemalan Government demand reduction organization (SECCATID) to improve their ability to detect, capture, interdict and prosecute drug traffickers. Funding will also support eradication of opium poppy and marijuana. Finally, as the need to address corruption in key government institutions is high, funding will support special prosecution units (anti-narcotics, anti-corruption and anti-money laundering) in coordination with USAID’s judicial reform efforts.

Jamaica ($1.5 million) - Funds will buy a fourth go-fast interceptor boat and equipment and training for a vessel maintenance program for the Jamaican Defense Force Coast Guard and support an expanded Customs Contraband Enforcement Team and the Jamaican Constabulary Force’s Fugitive Apprehension Team, Narcotics Division Counter-Drug Special Investigative Unit, and National Intelligence Bureau.

Mexico ($40.0 million) - The importance of support to the Mexican programs in counter-narcotics and other related areas cannot be overstated. Mexico is the major transport corridor for drugs to the United States. INCLE programs will focus on continuing to improve criminal justice and security sector institutions ongoing successful ability to take down major trans-border drug trafficking groups and related threats.

INCLE funding will assist in the modernization of police and prosecutorial units by expanding training opportunities to include state/local authorities and upgrading computer equipment, professionalizing Mexican personnel, and improving operational readiness. Funding will partially upgrade the aged air fleet of the Office of the Attorney General to do interdiction as well as to support the Mexican Air Force’s C-26 program. Funds will also strengthen border security, in implementation of the U.S.-Mexico Border Security Accord through the purchase of ten non-intrusive inspection systems, a computer information system to screen passengers coming to the United States, and the building of designated lanes for pre-cleared low-risk commuters throughout the border.

Latin America Regional ($3.25 million) - These funds are directed to two sets of countries; one situated in the drug transit zones of Central America and the Caribbean and a second situated in the key Triborder region in South America. In the drug transit zone, funding will go towards improving endgame interdiction capabilities.

Funding for the Caribbean region will focus on interdiction, law enforcement, tactical and operational intelligence gathering and the administration of justice, with an emphasis on sustainability. In Central America, funding will continue to support efforts to modernize justice sector institutions and legal frameworks to allow successful prosecutions of drug traffickers, money launderers, alien smugglers and corrupt public officials. Funding will also support regional efforts to promote more effective interdiction, information sharing and coordinated counter-drug strategies.

Bridging growing concerns on both drug trafficking and terrorism, funding provided to Paraguay, Chile, Uruguay and Argentina will support programs to disrupt cocaine trafficking at their borders and ports and improve investigative and prosecutorial efforts aimed at disrupting potential sources of funds for groups, which support terrorists.

Anticorruption Compacts ($9.0 million) - The Anticorruption Compacts are a new initiative that helps to fight corruption in a way that strengthens political will, rewards performance, and yields demonstrable results. The Compacts will require governments to commit in writing to reform in key areas that promote transparency and help prevent corruption, including management of public finances, public procurement, and engaging civil society. In exchange, countries will receive assistance targeted to these areas.

The request will fund the first year's effort in at least three countries. Assistance for each pilot country will focus on training, equipment and technology (including e-systems) needed to establish and maintain fiscal transparency and accountability systems, rules-based public procurement systems, effective enforcement and oversight institutions, and free and active civil society anti-corruption efforts.

Asia Regional ($1.0 million) - Narcotics trafficking and related criminal activities threaten the stability of countries in this region by fostering the growth of terrorist networks, corrupting governments, and undermining democratic institutions. Asia Regional funds will strengthen counternarcotics law enforcement, border control, and customs agencies and judicial institutions throughout Asia including Southwest Asia/Middle East. In the Middle East, assistance will support community policing strategies and civil disorder management training.

In Burma, which presents unique human rights and narcotics issues, carefully targeted funding will continue to support Project Old Soldier to provide alternatives to opium poppy cultivation in target villages.

In Sri Lanka, funding will provide for a resident Program Manager who will provide training to GOSL institutions on narcotics investigations, surveillance, prosecutions and case/personnel management issues.

Although no new Asia Regional programs will be funded for India in FY 2005, the centrality and importance of programming in India translates into a critical use of modest funds for operating and administrative expenses of the Narcotics Affairs Section in New Delhi.

Civilian Police and Justice Program ($2.7 million) - The Civilian Police and Justice Program continues to support and develop U.S. institutional capabilities to participate in civilian components of international peacekeeping missions and respond to complex security operations. Program efforts will:

- establish and maintain a cadre of up to 2,000 U.S. police, law enforcement advisors, justice and corrections experts;
- expand and sustain certification of the basic U.S. training program to all U.S. states and further develop relationships with federal, state and local law enforcement associations, organizations, and unions;
- promote high quality, standardized civilian police training for peacekeeping by inviting police from selected countries to participate in the basic U.S. training program; and,
- improve deployment capabilities to include quick response of assessment teams, advance teams, and technical advisors.

The FY 2005 program supports a police advisor to the OSCE, training coordinator and police advisor, and a position established at the U.S. mission in New York responsible for working with the UN Department of Peacekeeping Operations. FY 2005 funds also complete expansion of management and oversight of police, justice and prison programs.

Demand Reduction ($4.2 million) - Since education and prevention are also elements of a successful counter-drug program anywhere in the world, Demand Reduction programs seek to reduce the worldwide demand for illicit drugs by motivating foreign governments and institutions to give increased attention to the deleterious affects of drug abuse on society.

Often overlooked, but central to an overarching strategy of success, these funds will assist countries to reduce drug consumption, helping to strengthen social stability while reducing a revenues for trafficking and terrorist groups. INCLE funds support the development of national, regional and international coalitions of private/public sector social institutions, the faith community, and law enforcement entities, enabling the USG to mobilize international opinion and cooperation against the drug trade and strengthen support for USG counter-narcotics policies and initiatives.

A Parents Drug Corps program will encourage parents to help children stay drug free by training them in prevention skills and methods. An International Community Anti-Drug Coalition Institute will provide training and technical assistance on forming and sustaining effective community, anti-drug coalitions of civil society/grassroots organizations to reduce drug consumption, strengthen collaboration among public/private sector organizations, and enhance inter-governmental cooperation.

Additional priority programs include school-based prevention programs and support for faith-based organizations to augment prevention, intervention, and recovery maintenance services. Addiction Technology Transfer Centers will disseminate information and training on the most effective approaches for delivering prevention, treatment and violence reduction services. Funds will also develop research-based, cross-cultural prevention and treatment programs whose results can be used to improve U.S.-based services.

INL Anticrime Programs ($10.0 million) - The international crime threat to U.S. national interests is manifest in multiple areas. We confront not only a dire terrorist challenge but also the unprecedented spread of transnational criminal groups that exploit the vulnerabilities of the global economy to amass illicit wealth using increasingly sophisticated and creative means.

More than ever, effective international law enforcement cooperation is essential to ensure global stability and protect American communities, businesses and financial institutions. Included in this year's funding are both institution-building programs and global and regional diplomatic efforts.

- Anti-Money Laundering/Terrorist Financing. INCLE funding supports Administration priorities in addressing terrorist financing and money laundering threats to the United States. The supported efforts include assessments, technical assistance and training programs for the specific classified list of 24 priority countries, determined by the National Security Council, and also for countries such as Egypt, Indonesia and Guatemala that are on the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) "non-cooperative" list.

These comprehensive programs focus on creating robust anti-money laundering/anti-terrorist financing regimes, law enforcement capabilities and regulatory schemes.

INCLE funds also support international organizations like the FATF and the five FATF-style regional bodies, which promote the standard-setting and peer reviews vital to fighting terrorist financing and money laundering, as well as organizations such as the OAS/CICAD and U.N. Global Programme

Against Money Laundering, that provide anti-money laundering/anti-terrorist financing training and technical assistance to countries and regions.

In 2005, new initiatives include projects to develop Trade Transparency Units – modeled on Financial Intelligence Units – to better track and detect the movement of funds by terrorists and other criminals through alternative remittance systems that lie outside the formal financial sector; regionally-based technical assistance/training programs in the Pacific Islands and Central America to provide efficient use of scarce resources in areas trying to establish comprehensive anti-money laundering/anti-terrorist financing regimes; and the establishment of two new FATF-style regional bodies, in Central Asia and the Middle East.

- Border Controls. Porous borders greatly enhance the ability of international criminals, smugglers, and terrorists to expand their operations and avoid apprehension. However, as the first line of defense for many countries, stiff border controls can be a substantial deterrent to such activity and be a vehicle for gleaning useful information for identifying, investigating, and dismantling crime syndicates. INCLE border control funds will continue to be focused on strengthening and complementing several of the programs we have underway in South and Central America that are needed to stop a rash of criminal activity including narcotics trafficking, alien smuggling, and money laundering. Our focus will include the Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay tri-border area, where all of these threats as well as terrorism are manifested.
- Alien Smuggling. The smuggling of illegal migrants, which can serve as a vehicle for terrorist entry into the United States, is a major national security concern. Funds for this program will help support the newly created Human Smuggling and Trafficking Center—a joint State/Justice/Homeland Security center that has begun to collect, analyze, and disseminate intelligence and other information to facilitate coordinated international law enforcement efforts against illegal alien smuggling and trafficking in persons.

INCLE funds will also be used to conduct assessments and create “vetted units” and provide other training and technical assistance in, for instance, the Western Hemisphere to complement the vetted unit program started in Ecuador in FY 2003 to crack down on a regional migrant smuggling pipeline, or in Asia or elsewhere that intelligence indicates is the next emerging threat.

- Cyber Crime, Cyber Security and Intellectual Property Rights Crime. To combat the criminal misuse of information technology, we will provide technical assistance and training to build legal regimes and law enforcement capabilities in selected strategic countries, targeting in particular those nations where transnational crime and terrorism are growing concerns.

Protecting U.S. national and economic security from threats to our critical information networks will be addressed through an accelerated international outreach program promoting common standards, public-private partnerships, and integrated watch-and-warning. In addition, INCLE funds will be increased to support training for foreign law enforcement officials to combat theft of intellectual property, a problem that has a growing IT component. Among the countries where we will focus our IPR assistance are the Philippines, Brazil, Argentina, India, Mexico, Hong Kong-China and Egypt.

- Anti-corruption. Any effective anti-crime/anti-terrorism program must also attack corruption. As part of the President's anticorruption foreign policy initiative in the G8 and other forums, INCLE funding will support several international mechanisms (including at the UN, Council of Europe, OAS, and the OECD) to monitor anticorruption commitments made by over 60 governments, ensuring their translation into action by directing technical assistance to strategic countries.

International Law Enforcement Academies ($14.5 million) - INCLE funds will continue to support the work of established ILEAs in Bangkok, Budapest, Gaborone and Roswell, New Mexico. In addition, DOS continues to negotiate for the establishment of a new ILEA in Latin America to address areas of strategic importance to the United States. This ILEA is expected to open during calendar year 2004 and have a full program by the beginning of FY 2005. Other activities in FY 2005 will include modifying the core and specialized curriculum offered by the ILEAs to target areas of growing international criminal activity such as terrorism, corruption and trafficking in persons.

International Organizations ($12 million) -

- United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, Drug Program ($6.5 million). U.S. support to the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) complements INCLE and ACI bilateral programs and allows us to leverage U.S. funds to gain increased buy-in and support from a broader array of donor countries. While there are a number of programs on which the Department expects to press harder this year, since the urgency of success is rising, the track record is one of sound cooperation.

In Central Asia and Afghanistan, for example, UNODC is the coordinating mechanism for bringing together support from other donors who would probably not contribute otherwise. UNODC is the only multilateral institution that provides technical assistance on a global basis towards the development of modern law enforcement, financial regulatory and judicial institutions and practices.

UNODC also plays a unique global role by supporting development of modern national legislation corresponding to obligations set forth by the three UN anti-drug conventions, as well as effective national regimes to combat money laundering and terrorist financing.

While added dialogue will be essential in the year to come, these multilateral programs act as force multipliers in support of key U.S. objectives, and allow us to better reach areas where it is difficult for the U.S. to operate bilaterally.

UNODC goals and objectives closely support those of the Department, and the organization is a steadfast ally in support of strict enforcement efforts against illicit drugs, as required under international law.

In FY 2005, funds will support ongoing UNODC international programs that enhance law enforcement, judicial, and financial institutions in developing countries. Projects will include the provision of modern interdiction training and equipment to law enforcement officials in Central Asia, Afghanistan, South Asia, Sub-Saharan Africa, and elsewhere where drug trafficking activities challenge political stability. Equipment and training will also be provided to track and prevent the illicit diversion of precursor chemicals.

As a complement to the foregoing, funds will also support UNODC projects that promote alternative livelihoods for farmers engaged in illicit opium poppy cultivation in Southeast Asia to reduce and gradually eliminate the production of illicit drug crops that threaten U.S. interests. Finally, funds will support UNODC efforts to help states to pass or strengthen legislation to prohibit and penalize illicit drug trafficking, money laundering, and other ancillary crimes and to improve mutual legal assistance, extradition, and asset forfeiture cooperation in compliance with UN drug-control treaties.

- OAS Inter-American Drug Abuse Control Commission (CICAD) ($5.5 million). CICAD is the counter-drug arm of the Organization of American States (OAS) and the principal forum for counternarcotics cooperation in the Western Hemisphere. Through CICAD, the United States has fostered a greater local responsibility for the drug problem, and a strong commitment to fight the drug trade, and developed practical ways for governments to work together against transnational criminal threats.

Funding will be used by CICAD to strengthen national drug commissions, establish statistical systems, convene hemispheric experts to develop model legislation (e.g., money laundering) and set minimum standards (e.g., for drug treatment), as well as to conduct projects and training across a broad range of supply, demand, and legal development areas.

In an on-going effort to raise cooperation, funds will also support the Multilateral Evaluation Mechanism (MEM) – a peer review system for assessing national anti-drug performance – and to provide follow-on training and technical assistance to address gaps or deficiencies identified by the MEM in the anti-drug programs of individual governments.

Interregional Aviation Support ($70.0 million) - In FY 2005, the Interregional Aviation budget will provide core level services necessary to operate a fleet of 164 fixed- and rotary wing aircraft supporting aviation activities in Colombia, Bolivia, and Peru, border security operations in Pakistan, and, as needed, programs at other temporary deployment locations.

Operations include eradication, mobility, interdiction, monitoring, and logistical support. Again, consistent with a strategy of pressing for sustainable successes at a perceived ‘tipping point’ in these program areas, the primary focus will continue to be aggressive on the aerial eradication of Colombian coca and poppy.

Efforts in Peru and Bolivia will support manual eradication as well as interdiction efforts. The establishment of host-government self-sufficiency remains a central goal for Air Wing operations in each country and intensive training of pilots and mechanics ensures continued progress towards that objective.

Program Development and Support ($13.85 million) - Necessarily, as the load carried increases, program Development and Support funds become more critical. These core funds support domestic administrative operating costs associated with the Washington-based INL staff, including salaries and benefits of U.S. Direct Hire employees, personal services contracts, rehired annuitants and reimbursable support personnel, field travel, maintaining information resource management systems, and administrative support expenses such as office equipment rental, telephone services, printing and reproduction, miscellaneous contractual services, materials, supplies, furniture, furnishings and equipment.

Systems Support and Upgrades ($4.5 million) - Funds support our systems support and upgrades project by providing cost savings through standardization of services and support and aviation performance upgrades through economy of scale procurement.

Importantly, FY 2005 funding will support the sustainment of sensor packages in Barbados, Trinidad and Tobago, Mexico and Colombia, as well as provide spare parts, maintenance technical support, operators and mechanics training, and major component overhauls, and intelligence center upgrades to process and disseminate information gathered from these sensor aircraft for these countries.

Trafficking in Persons ($5.0 million) - Funds will be directed at those Tiers 2 and 3 countries of the Trafficking in Persons Report where the government has shown a commitment to the issue, as well as other countries or regions where there are trafficking problems.

Uses of this funding will include:

- training for police, immigration and criminal justice officials on investigating and prosecuting traffickers and monitoring international borders;
- legislative assistance;
- equipment such as computers, forensic crime kits, radios, and vehicles for anti-trafficking women and children police units or taskforces;
- awareness training by NGOs or international organizations for law enforcement officials on appropriate treatment of victims; renovation of shelters;
- creation of victim sensitive forensic interview rooms; establishment of national hotlines; and,
- development of anti-trafficking curriculums for police academies; and anti-trafficking research where there is limited information.

The use of these funds will be coordinated with other anti-trafficking resources, in particular the $12 million requested under Economic Support Funds.

United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, Crime Program ($1.0 million) - Building on the foregoing, many countries still lack adequate legal frameworks to prevent and combat organized crime, corruption, and terrorism. Exposure to internationally endorsed “best practices”-- often those based on U.S. models and expertise--is urgently needed. The UN Transnational Organized Crime Convention (TOC), the Convention Against Corruption, and the 12 universal legal instruments to prevent and combat terrorism in particular, codify many of the most significant “best practices” necessary to address corruption and organized crime.

The UN Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) is the only multilateral organization that possesses both a global reach and the credibility to deliver technical assistance to states seeking to ratify and implement these important new instruments. UNODC has in fact played a critical role to date in promoting the ratification of the TOC, which entered into force in September 2003.

FY 2005 funds will enable UNODC to provide on-site expert mentors to select high-risk countries to assist in implementing the TOC’s component provisions, including modern investigative and analytical practices for law enforcement officials, extradition and the provision of mutual legal assistance in organized criminal cases.

In the near future, UNODC also anticipates initiating a program to promote the ratification and implementation of the UN Convention Against Corruption, similar in many respects to the project that has promoted the ratification of the TOC. The DOS will look to support these activities from FY 2005 funds, pending the development of specific UNODC program activities.

The remainder of the FY 2005 contribution will assist UNODC’s ongoing project to promote the ratification and implementation of the 12 international legal instruments to combat and prevent terrorism.

Andean Counterdrug Initiative

($ in thousands)

Account	FY 2003 Actual	FY 2004 Estimate	FY 2005 Request
INCLE	788,450	726,687	731,000

The FY 2005 request of $731 million will support a unified Andean region campaign against the drug trade and narco-terrorism. With the purpose of eliminating the cultivation and refining of cocaine and opium to reduce the flow of drugs to the United States, and build Andean law enforcement infrastructures to find, arrest and prosecute traffickers and seize their assets, thereby breaking the narco-terrorist nexus and enhancing the rule of law.

Bolivia ($91.0 million) - FY 2005 funds will be used for eradication and interdiction operations, demand reduction and alternative development programs. Funds will:

- provide operational support for specialized counterdrug police and military units and prosecutor offices;
- reinforce and expand efforts to professionalize personnel;
- expand physical infrastructure;
- enhance data collection efforts to carry out law enforcement (through software, computers and enhanced communication capabilities);
- support economic development in coca growing areas; and
- provide public education (on bilateral drug goals, counterdrug programs and drug abuse within Bolivia).

Funds will also be used to provide support for the DOS-owned helicopter fleet as well as to maintain and purchase vehicles, riverine patrol boats, training and field equipment, and construct or refurbish antiquated counternarcotics bases.

Brazil ($9.0 million) - FY 2005 funds will support Brazil's interagency Operation COBRA, which is aimed at fortifying the northern border through riverine control linked to a tactical command center in Tabatinga. Funds will also provide law enforcement capabilities at all levels (federal, state, civil and military) with operational support and equipment to conduct more effective investigations and interdiction operations against specific international narcotics cartel leaders and their associates. In addition, the project will continue to build on training already provided by DOS and other USG agencies to enhance port and airport security, and to counter narcotics trafficking activities such as arms trafficking and money laundering.

Colombia ($463.0 million) - Taking advantage of a "tipping point" in program success, aggressive spraying in FY 2003 and FY 2004 is expected to offset replanting and new cultivation. By FY 2005, the program should, barring the loss of additional aircraft or suspensions of spraying for security reasons, be swiftly moving into a "maintenance spraying" phase. To support the necessary full push beyond the current "tipping point" in this critical program, FY 2005 funding will be used to maximize drug interdiction and eradication efforts by the Colombian National Police (CNP) and the Colombian Army (COLAR). Funds will also be used to support commensurate infrastructure improvements, CNP training, and establishment of secure and interoperable communications and intelligence systems.

In addition to air assets committed to spray operations, funds will support 71 pivotal COLAR helicopters (maintenance and repair, fuel, training and operations) throughout Colombian territory. This will be a pivotal year for use of these assets, as the coordination of CN and CT missions grows and both missions intensify toward achievable goals. Monies will also support the eight additional helicopters acquired in FY 2003 for the infrastructure security in Arauca. Additional military equipment, including upgrades to facilities and general operational support, will be provided to the Counterdrug Brigade.

Funding for alternative development and institution building will be directed towards:

- market access and building a licit agricultural economy,
- support to vulnerable groups such as internally displaced persons,
- support for programs deepening the commitment to democracy, and
- support to programs solidifying and promoting 'rule of law,' which include expanded CNP presence throughout conflict zones by mobile and permanent municipal units, and the highly successful CNP reinsertion program.

Also of growing importance, government protection for threatened individuals and offices will continue, particularly those associated with peace and human rights activities. Specifically tailored projects will promote:

- a more robust government and civil human rights protection infrastructure;
- expansion of judicial capabilities and infrastructure designed to facilitate justice administration and viable peace initiatives;
- modest support for demobilization efforts; and
- transparency and accountability in all public offices.

Ecuador ($26.0 million) - Ecuador programs are also closely tailored to meet specific aims. These programs will aim to stop the spillover of narco-trafficking from Colombia along the country's key northern border and the transit of drugs destined for the United States through ongoing programs and new initiatives. The latter include:

- construction of a port cargo inspection station and counternarcotics police base in Esmeraldas province;
- construction of an integrated checkpoint in La Troncal, Loja province;
- construction of supporting helipads; and
- renovation of the Pichincha counternarcotics police headquarters.

More generally, funding will continue essential support for counternarcotics police, port and canine operations, including:

- the acquisition of law enforcement and communications equipment;
- the purchase, maintenance, repair and operational costs of vehicles;
- aviation support; and,
- the cost of providing a port advisor from the Department of Homeland Security's Immigration and Customs Enforcement Division (DHS/ICE).

Other projects will provide police and judicial training essential to improving the detection and seizure of drugs and drug-related contraband. In addition, ACI funds will focus on improving criminal prosecutions, money laundering and chemical investigation and enforcement units. The northern border region projects will focus on improving local infrastructure (e.g., power grids, roads and bridges) as well as social and health conditions, and assisting municipal governments in implementing participatory democracy.

Panama ($6.0 million) - As Colombia's immediate neighbor to the north, Panama is the first opportunity to interdict drug shipments moving north to the United States. Panama is also one of the principal money laundering centers and major transportation hubs in the Western Hemisphere, and therefore important in countering international crime and terrorism. Funds will provide institutional development and operational support to Panama's public forces and law enforcement agencies. FY 2005 funds will be used, as in other countries, to promote professionalization within the agencies of the Ministry of Government and Justice (MOGJ) and Public Ministry (PM), training, anti-corruption activities, information management and exchange, case tracking, and a criminal database. Operationally, funds will provide training and equipment to support border control, air mobility and maritime interdiction, including support against narco-trafficking and narco-terrorist threats in the remote Darien border region and in coastal areas. Working closely with USAID and other bilateral and multilateral donors, DOS will support programs aimed at combating corruption, improving governance and respect for the rule of law, including adoption of modern police management systems.

Peru ($112.0 million) - Success will be methodically reinforced in Peru. In order to make further inroads into coca cultivation, already reduced by over 70%, FY 2005 funds will support the forced and voluntary eradication of illicit coca and opium poppy cultivation. These funds will pay for training, advisors, vehicles, aircraft maintenance services, ground-based infrastructure, communications and support equipment for the GOP. Funds will also support:

- enhanced law enforcement interdiction efforts against the operations of major Peruvian trafficking organizations;
- continued support for an anti-narcotics coordination center to facilitate air, ground, and water-based law enforcement endgames;
- targeted port control efforts; and,
- maintenance of the DOS-owned air assets used by the Peruvian police, which provide aerial transportation support for all of the above goals.

Similarly, funding for alternative development and institution building supports capital investment and technical assistance to help local governments build and sustain infrastructure to prevent the spread of illicit economic activities linked to narco-trafficking. These funds will build roads, bridges, potable water systems, electricity systems, irrigations systems, and schools and health facilities. Activities include:

- development of sustainable cacao tree crops with large export value;
- enhancement of local infrastructure including power grids, roads and bridges;
- improvement of social and health conditions;
- enhancement of local municipal governments to implement participatory democracy; and,
- improvement of administrative and financial skills in the public sector, as well as general alternative development project management.

In accord with a comprehensive strategy, these development efforts will be tied to progress in reducing drug crop cultivation on a regional basis.

Venezuela ($3.0 million) - New challenges lie in wait in Venezuela and require a continuing, albeit modest, commitment. The amount of cocaine transiting Venezuela is estimated to be at least 150 metric tons per year. The geographic location and terrain of Venezuela present attractive opportunities to drug traffickers seeking to move their product from Colombia, which shares a 2,200 kilometer border. Funding for interdiction efforts will focus on improving security at key airports, seaports, and border points of entry. Funds will be used to train and equipment small, dedicated units to intercept drugs (as well as conventional explosives, chemical weapons, and radioactive material) and to conduct post-seizure investigations into the trafficking networks.

Expert American advisors will be funded to provide continuous on-location guidance, training, and oversight on operational procedures, professional conduct, and employment of equipment. The program will also provide ongoing procedural and integrity training to police investigators, public prosecutors, and judges. In addition, the program will fund infrastructure development projects, such as the installation of automated local and wide area networks in support of the Public Ministry's case tracking system, the National Anti-Money Laundering Network, and the National Drug Czar's offices.

Air Bridge Denial Program ($21.0 million) - As a cornerstone of deterrence and narco-trafficking efforts, the Air Bridge Denial (ABD) programs in Colombia and Peru support ACI interdiction efforts directly. Core funding will continue contractor logistical support (CLS), and training for the Colombian and Peruvian programs.

In Colombia, the CLS will include aircraft and sensor equipment spare parts and maintenance, and training of pilots, sensor operators and mechanics for aircraft.

In Peru, the CLS will include aircraft and sensor equipment spare parts and maintenance, and training of pilots and sensor operator and mechanics for the aircraft. Funds for the Peru program will also support an Anti-Narcotics Coordination Center (ANCC), which will enhance the Government of Peru's capability to gather, analyze, and exploit information about illicit drug trafficking that may be occurring in Peru, including in its airspace east of the Andes, on its waters, and on the ground.
